

COMMON MULLEIN

This is a pioneer plant in areas that have been burned or disturbed. Mullein is not eaten by wildlife, and the large leaves prevent the growth of desirable native plants and grasses. This biennial can produce 100,000 to 200,000 seeds, which can remain viable for several decades, up to 100 years. Mullein should be hand-pulled or dug. DO NOT let it go to seed!
