

SWEETCLOVER

Sweetclover has a mixed story. Although it can be browsed by deer, it can have a negative impact on wildlife habitat because it can easily take over natural areas by overtopping and shading sun-loving native plants. You need to pull plants – they regrow quickly if you just cut the tops. Flowers can be yellow or white.