

WESTERN STICKTIGHT

Western sticktight is a native plant that can become a problem on road edges and disturbed areas. The plant produces small white to pale blue flowers, which dry into small black cup-shaped seeds that stick to shoe-laces, socks, and especially animals. This is a real problem plant for dog-owners!